Dr McPhedran

Dear Dr McPhedran:

At a meeting of the Board of Governors, held on Thursday afternoon, I was asked by the Board to send to you on the occasion of your relinquishing a portion of your duties as Professor of Medicine an expression of their great appreciation of the services that you have rendered for many years to the University in general and in particular to the Faculty of Medicine. They recognize fully that as a teacher of Medicine you have had a profound influence through your students on the practice of Medicine not only in this Province, but in the Dominion. They realize that you have given of yourself unstintedly to the work of your Chair and it is a source of satisfaction to them to know that your work has been honoured by those in your own profession, especially when you were elected to the presidency of the American Association of Physicians. Your name will always be connected with the University as that of one of the most influential members of the Faculty of Medicine at the time when it came to take an outstanding position among the Faculties of Medicine of this continent.

With assurances of my highest respect, I am

Yours sincerely,

President
